THE GLENS STORYTELLING FESTIVAL

Virtual Event

There's no stronger connection between people than storytelling...

Due to Covid-19 restrictions this year's Glens Storytelling Festival cannot take place in its normal format. However, members of the newly formed Glens Storytelling and Cultural Heritage Group have got together to create a virtual festival with events on each of the four days.

Our local tellers and musicians have recorded stories, many of them set in our stunning landscape. Reminding our listeners of the beauty of the area and of its rich heritage of storytelling and music. Enjoy performances from Liz Weir, Janice Witherspoon, Colin Urwin, Stephen O'Hara, Ciaran Mulholland and Karen Edwards.

FESTIVAL PROGRAMME

1 October 8.00pm

Join festival director Liz Weir and featured tellers for a story swap via zoom. Register in advance – you will receive a confirmation email with information on joining the meeting.

2 October 8.00pm

Join Liz Weir, Stephen O'Hara, Ciarán Mulholland, Janice Witherspoon and Colin Urwin for a social distanced session of stories and music recorded at Hillmount House, Drains Bay.

3 October 8.00pm

Our festival tellers will be sharing tales in this livestream event broadcast from The Accidental Theatre.

4 October 8.00pm

Come with us on a virtual tour of some of the beautiful places along the Causeway Coastal Route listening to stories along the way.

final completion. She allows herself to be open to changes influenced by fluctuating mood & atmosphere as this is all part of the natural process, to ebb & flow, embrace change & grow. Her sculptures are detailed, precise & elegant, attempting to unify nature & humanity. They encompass an extensive combination of media & engage a wide range of skill sets & traditional techniques.

Alongside her sculptures in bronze and resin, Helen is also presenting audio-visual work, including her most recent 'Covid Diaries' created during lockdown.
